

Mohsin Ali

Area of Expertise: Pharmacology, Pharmacogenomics, Drugs Management

Department: Pharmacology

Designation: Senior Lecturer

Bio-summary:

He was born in 1987 and got his initial education from Peshawar. He got PharmD degree from Sarhad University of Science and Technology, Peshawar in 2012. He completed his one-year hospital rotation in Institute of Radiotherapy and Nuclear Medicine (IRNUM) Peshawar. After that, he was appointed as Hospital Pharmacist and Drug Counsellor at Ibadat Hospital Peshawar. During this, he got his MPhil (Pharmacology) degree from Institute of Basic Medical Sciences, Khyber Medical University Peshawar in 2017. He then joined Muhammad College of Medicine Peshawar as senior lecturer in Department of Pharmacology. In 2019, he was selected as PhD scholar in Department of Pharmacy, University of Peshawar and his research area is "Pharmacogenomic studies on Treatment Resistant Schizophrenia".

Publication:

- Association of Vitamin D and Its Receptor (VDR) Gene Single Nucleotide Polymorphism (Apal and TaqI) with Risk of Psoriasis
<http://www.ajsmu.com/index.php/AJSMU/article/view/112>
- PITX3 gene polymorphism and its association with Parkinson's disease in Pakistani population (submitted for review).
- Incidence of primary myelofibrosis in general population of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa. (Submitted for review)

Contact:

Phone:

0321-5275212

email:

drmohsinali@mcmpeshawar.edu.pk